Contents

Statement

- If an operation can be done in m ways and another operation be done in n ways then:

  - Both the operations can be done in:

    $$N = m \times n$$

  - Either of the operations, either m or n can be done in:

    $$N = m + n$$